Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
Times Virginian;

I had a letter from R. N. Hubbarth, of Lincoln Nebraska, National Director of "Camps for Blind Children" saying – "In faith we are planning a camp in your union this year at "Blue Ridge Youth's Camp" near Monteballa, Va. as we did last year, 1971. He began his letter thus, Dear Adventist Friend, we are planning now for a week at your camp this summer. That's not far off. Your church and conference leaders are co-sponsoring the Blind Camp. Their sponsorship is only half –that's why we are writing you. We need your cooperation and participation in Operation Blind Camp. Six camps were held in 1971, and final dates are now being confirmed for this year's eleven camps.

JUNIOR TRI-HI-Y

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y Club met on April 6, 1972 at the Appomattox Intermediate School. Our president, Grace Ranson began the meeting with the Junior Tri-Hi-Y Opening Ceremony. Mr. Gene Richardson and Mr. Dallas Moore of the police force came and talked to us about their department.

Jeanette Clark had devotions and then we were adjourned with the Lord's Prayer.

Reporter, Teresa Cyrus

He also adds – Thousands of books of green trading stamps and many cash donations were received for the 1971 camps. He says – You can help make it possible for every blind child in America to have a chance to attend camp. The children attend free and must be legally blind to attend, and the cost for the week is only $50.00.

cularly with the establishment of the Agriculture Research Center which will be located at Camp Pickett.

The Farm Bureau went on record to pay tribute to a member, Jack S. Caldwell, Jr. (who passed away Monday, April 10) who was at the time of the dinner, a patient at Virginia Baptist Hospital.

President Pickett announced that the county organization is within six members of attaining its membership quota and that nineteen new members had signed up since July. Harold Jones, membership chairman, was congratulated.

Field supervisor Dwight Atkins was welcomed by the president, and Atkins gave a brief report on his work.

Jane and Janet Hix provided vocal numbers accompanied on the guitar.

The dinner was served by the Women of Bethel Methodist Church.

Real Cost of Insurance

NEW YORK—In real terms, the cost of basic automobile liability insurance actually has declined, the Insurance Information Institute reports. Based on auto insurance premium and income in each of the respective years, the cost was equal to 1.38 per cent of annual income in 1947 and to 1.03 per cent of annual income in 1967.

The Pastor Speaks

After Easter What Now?

Luke 24:32-34

Now that Easter is over our hearts should begin to contemplate our services for Christ for the coming year. After the resurrection his disciples had changed hearts. The hearts of these men were burning with enthusiasm and faith. They had a found communion with Christ. They were walking among the roads with the Risen Saviour. They had a new comprehension. The Bible says he "opened unto them the scriptures". Before the resurrection and the Cross, Simon had denied him on three occasions. Judas had forsaken him and committed suicide. Ten of the other disciples had forsaken him and fled. Only John stood by. Besides John there were a few devout women that stayed close to the cross. Among these, "Mary the Mother of Jesus."

After the resurrection, however, they became very courageous. Simon Peter, the boney fingered fisherman would make a stand and point his fingers in the face of 3,000 Jews and tell them of their need for Christ. We find that Peter preached boldly, Acts 2:22-24, Saul who was converted and now called Paul, preached also. (Acts 22:6-21) These men became fearless preachers of the word of God.

After examining the tremendous change in the attitude of these men it should be an incentive to us, that this coming year, we might take a firm stand for the crucified, buried, and Risen Lord Jesus Christ.

A MINISTER IN THE HOUSE?

Lesson for April 16, 1972

Background Scripture: Acts 6; 1-7; Ephesians 4:11-16; 1 Timothy 3.

Devotional Reading: Luke 10; 1-9.

"Is there a minister in the house?" asked a slightly flustered Master of Ceremonies. The dinner was ready to begin but the clergyman who had been scheduled to give the invocation had just called to say he had had car trouble and couldn't get there on time. Since prayers are the kind of thing you invite clergymen to do for you, the Master of Ceremonies was anxious to find a clergyman to give the prayer and get the banquet underway.

Everyone A Minister

It didn't seem to occur to the Master of Ceremonies that it would be just as appropriate to have the prayer given by a layman present—even himself when no one responded to his plea, a man in the front of the room stepped to the microphone saying, "I'll give the invocation; I'm not a clergyman, but I am a minister."

What this layman meant was that one doesn't have to be a clergyman to be a minister in the New Testament sense of the word. The word we translate as minister in the Bible is diakonos in the Greek, It means: "one who serves." When Jesus washed the feet of the disciples, he performed a work of ministry or humble service. He was a minister in that he acted as a servant. So, too in Acts 6 the ministers are those who have chosen to wait on tables at the meals of the disciples.

In the New Testament the word ministry does not refer to the work of the professional clergy. All Christians were called to be ministers, humble servants. The purpose of every follower of Jesus Christ – not just an elite few – is to respond readily to serve the needs of others. The association of the word "ministry" with the professional clergy came much later.

The Work Of Ministry

In Ephesians 4 the writer speaks of the purpose of spiritual gifts as "for the equipment of the saints, for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ" (4:12). The word "ministry" here does not refer to the clergy, but the mission or task that all Christians are called to perform. Today's English Version of the Bible (American Bible Society) captures this meaning when it translates the sentence as: "He did this to prepare all God's people for the work of Christian service."

Is there a minister in the house? There ought to be – in every house!

One was of a man, 103, who first belonged to Captain Rogers rangers in New Hampshire. He was a sergeant at the capitulation of Fort William Henry in 1757.

Other columns tell of news in eastern states. One story concerns a fire at Augusta, Georgia, in the loss of $100,000 in property. Another tells of a mail robbery and that "it was hoped the loss would be heavy." Another story is about John Hancock "who absconded some days ago from Boston with $5,-100 under pretense of being agent for Citizens line of stages."

On one side of the close printed pages there's a poet's corner, a Ladies Department and Parents' Department.

According to the old paper, Methodists and Presbyterians in Virginia were having grave differences with regard to the "conduct of Methodist preachers", a far cry from present-day extensive cooperation between these two denominations and other church groups, as well.

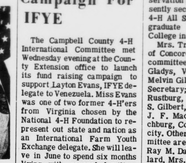
Trooper Speaks To Ruritans



Trooper Howard Gregory

Trooper Howard Gregory spoke to the Oakville Ruritan Club on Highway Safety. He pointed out that there were three very important E's in Highway Safety.

1. Engineering – which is building safer roads.

2. Education – to help us become better and safer drivers.

3. Enforcement – of highway laws in an effort to make our highways safer to travel.

Trooper Gregory also showed a very interesting film entitled "Your Virginia State Police". This film showed how and the police were trained and the various ways they are involved in carrying out their job as a state trooper. One other thing that stood out in the film was the pride and dedication each trooper exhibited in carrying out his job as a Virginia State Trooper.

In an effort to help carry out their community projects the Oakville Ruritans are having a community spaghetti supper on Sat., April 29th, starting at 5 p.m. Also planned to help raise funds for their projects is a community auction sale sometime in July. Anyone having items they would like sold should contact a member of the Oakville Ruritan Club.

JORDAN BAPTIST

"Blessed be the name of the Lord from this time forth and for evermore. From the raising of the sun unto the going down of the same the Lord's name is to be praised." Psalm 113:2-3

A very large crowd attended the 3-Way sermon on Easter Sunday night. The three speakers and their messages were Rev. J. W. Paige –"He didn't Have to do it but He did," Rev. W. R. Jones –"It's Finished," and Rev. C. L. Elliott "The Victorious Christ." The Near the Cross Gospel Singers rendered the music. Other preachers present included Rev. Mays, Rev. Sandridge, Rev. Paul Jones and Rev. E. G. Lawing.

We are very sorry that Rev. Winston Jones is in the hospital. Our prayers and best wishes are with him for a speedy recovery.

All present enjoyed the program the second Sunday night, given by the Amateur Spiritual Singers.

The Ladies Club will meet this Saturday night at 7:30. All members are asked to be present.

The fourth Sunday is a busy day for us and we are asking the public to join us at 11 a.m. for regular preaching, 3:00 p.m. dedication services and 7 p.m. a choir festival.
